CALL FOR PAPERS

We are hereby pleased to announce the call for the submission of research papers to the 2021 Edition of “Nausivios Chora”.

“Nausivios Chora” is a scientific journal published since 2006 by the Hellenic Naval Academy, the Institution that provides academic and professional training to the future officers of the Hellenic Navy. The faculty members of the Hellenic Naval Academy are devoted to the promotion of research and education on a broad range of scientific disciplines. The title of the journal (loosely translated as “Country Living on Ships”) wishes to emphasize the vital role of sea and naval activities to the evolvement through ages of the Hellenic nation.

“Nausivios Chora” is a biannual, peer-reviewed, open access journal that publishes original articles in areas of scientific research and applications directly or indirectly related to the naval sciences and technology. The scope of the Journal is to provide a basis for the communication and dissemination of scientific results obtained in Hellenic or International academic and research institutions that may present a relevance to the sea element.

The 2021 Edition includes thematic volumes in the following areas:

- Part A: Mechanical and Marine Engineering
- Part B: Electrical Engineering and Computer Science
- Part C: Natural Sciences and Mathematics
- Part D: Humanities and Political Sciences
- Part E: Marine Sciences and Naval Operations

All submitted manuscripts are expected to contain original research material that has not been published elsewhere and is not currently under consideration by any other journal. The manuscript is expected to meet standards of academic excellence and will undergo peer-review process by referees whose identities will remain anonymous to the authors.

The International Advisory Committee members, all acknowledged experts in their field of interests, cover a wide range of scientific disciplines ensuring the integrity of the peer-review process and the academic excellence of the published articles in a way that best represents the aims and scope of the Journal.

Interested authors should submit articles directly to nausivios@hna.gr indicating the thematic volume (Part A-B-C-D-E) appropriate for their contribution.

The deadline for the full manuscript submission has been set to November 15, 2021.

Peer-review and revision process is expected to be completed within December 2021.

Accepted articles will be appearing online as soon as proofreading and typesetting is finalized.

The completed volume will be released in electronic form in early 2022.

Further inquiries should be directed to nausivios@hna.gr.
